

East Palo Alto has the highest density households in the Bay Area

Industrial and agricultural commerce have polluted East Palo Alto soils. Street run-off flows into the Baylands

East Palo Alto has the lowest ratio of municipal open space per capita in San Mateo County, for a city of equivalent density.

Toxic industrial sites leaching pollutants into ground water

Encroaching retail & industrial development

Toxic Dumping

Exotic Invasive Species

Golf Course Runoff

East Palo Alto Charter School is uniquely positioned on an endangered habitat, and provides a perfect home for conservation biology programs and environmental education.

East Palo Alto Baylands

Harmful chemicals and pollutants in the Bay

Airport exhaust from planes. noise, physical threat to bird species

Contact:
Wolfram Alderson
Executive Director
Collective Roots
wolfram@collectiveroots.org